DOMENICK MUOIO JOINS UKC® TEAM

Hello everyone, my name is Domenick Muoio. I am the new UKC Hunt Test and Field Trial Program Manager. My role here with the United Kennel Club is overseeing and managing our Hunting Retriever, Upland Hunting, Elite Shed Dog, and newly acquired American Field programs.

We understand there may be a few questions associated with the acquisition and we are here to help answer them and make sure the transition is smooth for everyone. We will use this platform to keep our American Field participants and Field Dog Stud Book customers informed with updates of the move, answer FAQs, and give you all valuable tips to ensure you get the most efficient service possible. I look forward to meeting many of you at upcoming events across the country.

If you have any questions, feel free to reach out to the UKC Hunting Ops team via email at HuntingOps@ukcdogs.com or call us at (269) 343-9020.

Hello, Field Trial Community!

You are reading the first issue, released digitally as a complimentary publication. In the coming months, subscribe to have it delivered to your door! If you continue to prefer to read it online, that's fine too. It will remain available each month as a PDF for easy access. Subscription details will be coming soon. Stay tuned! For now, enjoy.

Browse these pages to get a feel for what The Field will offer each month. In the all-new monthly newsletter, you can expect the upcoming event ads, post-event recaps and results you enjoy most. The newsletter will also be a place to scout out up and coming stud dogs in the coming months, view kennel ads, and read articles of interest. A monthly section, written by UKC's Field Trial Program Manager, Domenick Muoio, has all the important news and update core to your involvement with American Field events.

Our goal is to continue the works of The AMERICAN FIELD and provide the latest news on sporting dogs and field trial competition results. The United Kennel Club is committed to the American Field legacy and will work for the betterment of the field trial sport.

NATIONAL FREE-FOR-ALL CHAMPIONSHIP

Woodville's Yukon Cornelius named 2021 Champion

by Ruthann Epp | Greensboro, Alabama | December 8, 2021

The 2021 National Free-for-All Champion is Woodville's Yukon Cornelius, four-year-old tri-colored setter male handled by Mark McLean and owned by Carl Owens of Charleston, S. C.

According to an article by Ben W. Pugsley in the 1963 Christmas Edition of The American Field, four setters had won the National Free-for-All since its inaugural running in 1916. Candy Kid was the first, winning in 1918 on the Bell Estate in Lowndes County, Ala., handled by Ches Harris. Jay R's Boy, handled by Ed Farrow, won in 1919 and 1920, and Shore's Ben, handled by John W. Martin, won in 1921.

If my research is not remiss, no setter has won since 1921, which makes Woodville's Yukon Cornelius the fifth setter in 10 years to win this endurance stake that requires an extreme race while showing a true bird dog.

Cornelius exhibited true stamina and never lost his style or speed in the hour-and-a-half callback even after having run in the qualifier earlier the same day. He ran the last brace of the finals turned loose in Black Bottom Pasture at three in the afternoon with bracemate Marques Armed Robber (Henry). His owner, Carl Owens, was in the gallery.

Cornelius rimmed Black Bottom Pasture before crossing Germain Creek. Both dogs quickly disappeared into the big open fescue field and as the gallery entered the field, the two dogs were going out the far end to the left, but the course was turning to the right. The handlers got both dogs back at 11. After emerging from the Wild Woods chute, Cornelius was near the top of the hill hunting the edge of a feed strip in high speed. The dogs popped out from the left of VIP pond and then disappeared over the hill above Show Bottom. All in the gallery were waiting with anticipation for the call of point from the big tree near the graveled road that leads to the water tower. Sure enough, it happened at 30 minutes when both handlers called point. Armed Robber stood atop of the hill on the opposite side in the feed strip and Yukon Cornelius was pointing along the lower end of the feed strip out of sight from each other. Both handlers flushed in their respective locations and birds were in front of both dogs. The two shots echoed in the heavy air.

They then crossed the gravel and both dogs took the left edge. Not much could be seen but they evidently took Gum Springs Bottom because as the gallery neared the road, the dogs popped out on the left. Shortly after, at 47, a raised hat was seen just above the curve of the hill. Everyone cantered to the bottom of the field below the hay barn. There was Yukon Cornelius, statuesquely standing in the shadows of a big oak tree with a focused stare and straight-up feathered tail. His bracemate was backing. McLean stepped in front of the setter and a bevy of quail boiled out through the briars and branches and the crack of a shot quickly followed. Henry ended his bid as we neared headquarters.

The last 42 minutes were continuous powerful casts. Haily Moreland was riding in the gallery providing extra "horse power" for scout Jerry Raynor to swap out as needed. Cornelius made it through what is called the dove field, then made some big swings through Black Cow pasture. The judges stopped above the pond for at least five minutes as handler and scout were scouring the hedgerows and clusters of trees. Then Cornelius was spotted in front along the far fenceline down toward the head of Turkey Lake. Here it was in December and people were all in short sleeves and horses, lathered, but neither the heat nor humidity seemed to affect Cornelius. He checked out an area that is frequently home to a covey but none there; he then took in the last remaining fields to the extreme and as the judges topped the hill above the Warden's Pond, they caught a glimpse of the tri-color setter before disappearing over the hill thru the fence line and called "Pick 'em up!"

The stylish handsome setter joined the Owens family as an eight-week-old puppy gifted to Ellington, Carl and Ashley's daughter who was four years old at the time. Ellington thought the pup looked like the character Yukon Cornelius in the Rudolph the Red Nosed Reindeer movie, hence the name and then for his callname, Rudy.

Carl decided to run Rudy as a puppy in a Derby stake and won first. Rudy kept winning and won the South Carolina Derby of the Year as a puppy. Ike Todd took him on as a pupil for his Derby year and successfully won with Rudy as well. Woodville's Yukon Cornelius was invited, ran, and was called back in the 2019 American Derby Invitational.

He won the Herman Smith English Setter All-Age Derby Award in 2019 and then the John S. O'Neill, Sr. English Setter Open All-Age Award for 2020 and 2021.

Robin Gates ran him a short while and then Rudy went to Mark McLean. They have made a good match. His all-age wins include the Hobart Ames, runner-up North Carolina Open All-Age Championship, West Tennessee, and this fall, a second place at the Sunshine, and now the Free-for-All Championship which qualifies him to run in the National at Grand Junction.

Judges for this year's renewal were Bill Mason of Moundville, Ala., a longtime field trialer and bird hunter who has judged many championships and has been involved in all aspects of the field trial game. He managed the M. Barnett Lawley Forever Wild Field Trial Area since its inception.

Burke Hendrix, a successful businessman from Hernando, Miss., like Bill Mason, is a true proponent of bird dog field trials. He has been instrumental in hosting numerous historic trials in Mississippi. It was an honor to have such qualified men, who have ridden many a mile in the saddle as judges, handlers, and scouts to be the ones rendering judgment.

Those called back for final series, in addition to the winner, were Touch's Malcom Story, handled by Mark McLean and owned by Alex and Brianna Rickert of Bozeman, Mont.; Marques Armed Robber, handled by Robert (Lefty) Henry and owned by John Ivester of Huntersville, N. C.; and Coldwater Thunder, the reigning National Champion and only female in the draw, handled by Steve Hurdle and owned by Doug Arthur of Eades, Tenn., Billy Blackwell and Rachel and David Russell of Como, Miss.

On the final morning of the qualifying runs, because of some scratches and extenuating circumstances due to the weather, there was a discussion of the possibility that dogs could run in the qualifier and be called back on the same day. The judges were prepared to spread things out over another day or two, if necessary; but the handlers and owners voiced their confidence that their dogs were in shape and said, "Let's do it." Up until 2011, the finals were three hours of running, so nothing unreasonable with this. Several field trialers have expressed dismay that it is not still three hours. Only time will tell if that resumes returns.

Looming weather conditions had everyone concerned and rightly so since that was the evening of the deadly tornadoes that hit Kentucky. Temperatures rose and in combination with the high humidity, the hour-and-a-half finals tested the endurance of both dogs and horses. The "heart" that the canine athletes showed was touching—they pressed forward for the love of the run and hunt but also as loyalty to their handlers, by giving their all despite the conditions.

Three of the four dogs called back finished the ninety minutes, two of them having run earlier the same day.

The first brace of the finals started early afternoon taking a break only long enough for a horse change. Touch's Malcolm Story (McLean) and Cold Water Thunder (Hurdle) were unsnapped from the bridle rein at the red barn at 1:03 p.m. on a blustery afternoon. Owner Alex Rickert was riding for Malcolm. Coldwater Thunder had run earlier in the day in the qualifying series. The two dogs disappeared over the first hill. Thunder showed coming back across the front. At 10 owner Rickert saw a hat raised in the distance so some in the gallery took the long fast ride. The scout had left the dog to come call point. When we all arrived, no dog. The scout said, "Well, he is gone or I'm in the wrong place." Not having been on these grounds before, scout Jerry Raynor was a bit directionally challenged but he was a good sport and hope he will be back.

Thunder went through the gap into Black Cow Pasture and stayed straight going over the hill to the head of Turkey Lake and Malcolm took the right line. At 17 minutes Thunder was spotted making a big cast across the hill on the other side of the lake. At 28 Hurdle called point in Black Bottom Pasture. The white and liver female had perfect manners as the birds were flushed. Both dogs were strong taking the right edge of Black Cow Pasture. Thunder veered right and Malcolm went up the cedar line. Point was called at 48 for Malcolm on top of the hill with all in order. Coldwater Thunder had point called for her at 52 not far from the lake edge. Hurdle stepped in front of her, and a woodcock popped out and he fired. Both dogs took in the rest of Black Cow pasture. Malcolm made an attractive cast taking the right edge and then across the distant front fenceline. Thunder carved the edge of Little Prairie Pasture. Both were running straight into a strong wind.

At one hour and 15, point was called for Malcolm along the red barn line, but it was a barren stand. Then Hurdle called point at an hour and twenty along the dove field feed strip for find No. 3. Cold Water Thunder was proving her heart was in it. She finished out the front.

Qualifying Heats

Forty-five-minute qualifying heats started 23 minutes late due to fog delay. Ocoola Rebel Chief (Hurdle) took the left edge and Touch's Malcolm Story (McLean) went straight up the hill from the breakaway. Malcolm was pointed out going across the hillside across Turkey Lake, then the next sighting was at 31 minutes when point was called down the line along Black Bottom Pasture for Malcolm. As McLean pushed through the briars, out came the birds and a shot was fired. Both dogs had a big race and finished strong.

Marques Armed Robber (Henry) and Erin's Outlawed (Hurdle) started across the road. Armed Robber made a big cast around the right side of the first pond and then showed up coming across the dam ahead. At 35 minutes Henry called point along the downed fence after leaving the powerline; birds blew out of the ditch as he stepped in front of his dog. Outlawed was picked up and Armed Robber finished strong across the road.

Touch's Breakaway Fred (McLean) and Late Hit (Shenker) started at what is called the parking lot. They disappeared over the hill and were next seen in Taylor Field, the big green field that has corners that can draw dogs to unknown places; each handler has his own strategy for maneuvering. At 35 McLean called point at the "big tree" covey. It was a fight for him to get into the briars to flush. Birds flew in all directions with all in order. Late Hit was picked up after crossing the gravel and Fred lost his focus.

Sandwood Creek (Raynor) and Southern Nation (Henry) started after lunch. Southern Nation had said scribe, as owner watched his performance. Creek's race didn't have the reach, and Nation's was extreme making a big cast on the side of the hill across Turkey Lake. Raynor called point at 22 but produced no birds and then at 38 minutes after a long relocation, birds finally lifted to garner a find. Southern Nation showed up at the wrong time in an awkward circumstance and was charged with not backing.

Touch's Folsom Blues (McLean) and Erin's Tie Breaker (Hurdle) both made big casts and never let up. At 26 Blues was standing at the end of the chute in the woods and Tie Breaker was backing for a pretty picture and the sound of gunfire. At 38 a distant call of point was heard for Tie Breaker. Riders raced to get there but point was called off. The two dogs finished strong across the road.

Game Ice (Raynor) and Dragonfly (Hughes) were away at 2:58 p.m. Rhonda Hughes was in the gallery giving her support. Within 5 minutes, two hats were raised along the cedar line. Most of the gallery centered there. Judge Mason dismounted and assumed an umpire stance to look under the low cedar branches for flight of birds. All was in order and both handlers shot. Five minutes later point was called for Dragonfly again with Ice backing. No birds were flushed. Both dogs made it through the Wild Woods and made some big swings in New Ground. Dragonfly was standing in the brush at the base of VIP pond where it is common to find birds, but none was flushed to end the brace.

Coldwater Thunder (Hurdle) and Touch's Gallatin Fire (McLean) got a late start because of a fog delay. Fire's owner, Alex Rickert, was riding for his team. At 8 minutes a hat was raised above Warden's Pond for the McLean team with all in order. At fifteen, two calls of point were heard. When the gallery came through the gap, both dogs were standing on the edge of the feed strip, neither real intent. Both handlers walked in front of the dogs, birds flew, and both shot. At 27 McLean called point again for Gallatin Fire with Thunder backing and all in order, and at 32 minutes another divided find along the line of Black Cow Pasture and Black Bottom Pasture. Both dogs took Taylor Field and then finished well.

Dakota Nation (Hurdle) and Touch's Whitey Ford (McLean) were unleashed in the big open field across the road. Dakota Nation had owner, Ted Roach, riding for him. At 7 Hurdle called point just up the line from the first ditch crossing but no birds were seen.

Dakota Nation finished the 45 minutes but Whitey Ford was picked up early.

The last brace of the qualifier was Woodville's Yukon Cornelius (McLean) which ran as a bye, with owner Carl Owens in the gallery. He took the edge from the breakaway and hunted down the cedar line and then someone in the gallery pointed him out going over the far hill above Black Cow Pond. He was next seen in Taylor Field and etched the entire field to perfection. When the gallery exited Wild Woods, the setter was almost to the top of New Ground hunting a feed strip. He disappeared over the hill above VIP pond. Riding toward the gravel road, McLean raised his hat. The tri-color setter was standing in the edge of briars near the "big tree." All was in order, and he finished strong.

Deserved Acknowledgments

The United States Open and the National Free-for-All ran back-to-back so it was an opportunity for owners to watch their dogs run two and possibly three heats on one trip. At least six owners hailing from Montana, Mississippi, South Carolina, and Alabama were here for one or the other or both trials.

The grounds on the Forever Wild Field Trial Area are big open fields with edges made by old fencelines. It is thrilling to ride a horse while watching a dog take those edges and then have it culminate with a stylish find in a feed strip. Adding to the total experience is the camaraderie within the gallery—catching up on daily lives, young dogs, and wins, while eagles soar above and ducks and geese come and go.

The National Field Trial Club is appreciative of the State of Alabama Lands Division, that manages, for the sport of field trials, this Forever Wild property and appreciative of the Alabama Conservation and Wildlife Department and Commissioner Blankenship's oversight. The dedication of these two agencies in keeping these grounds groomed and facilities available for field trials allows this multi-generational and historic sport to be viable in our area and makes it possible for these longtime championships — the National Free-for-All and the National Derby that runs in January — to continue in Alabama.

The field trial community is forever grateful to Bill Mason, who retired the end of December after thirteen years of managing these grounds for our enjoyment and benefit. We had the privilege of meeting Brae Buckner, Bill's replacement, and look forward to working with her in the years to come.

A thank you to the 20th Century Fund, an arm of the Amateur Field Trial Clubs of America that has provided grant money for the last six or seven years to this venue through amateur field trial clubs that run on these grounds. The monies assist with the purchase of seed and fertilizer for the feed strips.

Thanks to Carol Gatlin of Dawson, Ga., who served delicious meals for the group. It was nice to come into the White House and be greeted by someone in the kitchen wanting to know how the day was going. She was much appreciated, as was Henrietta Mason and her desserts.

John Henry Kitchens is another who deserves much thanks. He is the ultimate dog wagon driver. Being a retired air traffic controller and a military helicopter pilot serving in Vietnam, he can definitely deal with dog wagon logistics.

Thanks to all the others that marshaled, helped with barn duties and whatever came up. And thanks to the owners, handlers, and scouts of these dogs!

Lastly, a special thank you to Purina for their sponsorship and continued support. Purina's involvement in our sport is invaluable, as are the individual reps attending our trials.

ALABAMA AMATEUR FIELD TRIAL CLUB

by Tessa Hughes | Blue Mountain, Mississippi | December 2, 2021

The 2021 Alabama Amateur Field Trial took place December 2-4 at Blue Mountain, Miss., at the beautiful Hell Creek Wildlife Management Area grounds.

We want to express our thanks to Mississippi Wildlife, Fisheries, and Parks for the tremendous work they do on these grounds to make them so hospitable for our sport. We very much appreciate the time and effort the state of Mississippi puts into its natural resources so that its citizens can enjoy the outdoors at sporting events like field trials.

The club would also like to thank its sponsor, Sportsman's Pride Dog Food, for its generous and continued support of our sport. The club enjoyed delicious meals each day provided by club members Melissa Bain and Carolyn Page. Our club is always a joint effort including the work contributed by various folks, including Marshals Brad Kennedy, Joe Hughes, and our stake manager and secretary, Greg Bain. We also appreciate our club member who drove our dog wagon, Ronald Thrasher.

We also want to thank our very capable judges for their time and effort: Stegan Smith of Corinth, Miss., and Joe Hughes of Locust Fork, Ala., who judged the All-Age; Smith and Gary McKibben of Hernando, Miss., who judged the Derby; and Smith and Brian Hodges of Smithville, Miss., who judged the Shooting Dog Stake. We cannot overstate how much the club appreciates the time and careful attention each judge gave to the entries in front of them.

James R. Page Memorial Amateur All-Age Stake

This year's All-Age stake was won by Misty Morn Masked Man, pointer male owned by Joey McAlexander. Interestingly, this is Masked Man's third time to win this All-Age Stake, having won in 2018, and the year prior, 2017. Masked Man also won the Derby the year before in 2016.

Masked Man was up in the first brace of the trial on Thursday morning with his braced mate, Rebel Survivor, pointer male (David Williams), leaving from the clubhouse to the left. Conditions were warm and overcast. Masked Man and Survivor made some beautiful casts through the first fields, and both made it quite nicely through the pines behind the clubhouse to cross the rock road. Masked Man hunted hard throughout his brace, sweeping always to the front, covering the country on some of his favorite huge grounds. Man had a brilliant find at 51 on the hill before you cut through the small pine thicket, standing with his head and tail high for wing and shot. He went on to finish strong after the road crossing. Rebel Survivor also finished well but had no bird work.

The Running

Coldwater Paradise, pointer female (Gary McKibben), and Mohawk Mill Gangster, pointer male (Gary Winall), were up next. Leaving from the game warden's house, they ran hard and finished strong but neither dog had game contact.

Next up were Thor Touch B, setter male (Marion Brown), and Rebel Dreams, pointer female (Williams). Both dogs left from the club house and made impressive casts in the big bear trap field. Dreams went on, making us sit up and take notice, and she carried on for her handler through the country. Unfortunately, Thor was lost with Brown asking for his retrieval device before the Hell Creek crossing. Dreams went on to have a beautiful find at 46 on the right before the steel bridge crossing, garnering her a third-place finish.

First up after lunch were Small's White Charger, pointer male (Mike Small) and Mohawk Mill Knight Hawk, pointer male (Winall). Both dogs ran aggressive races, with Knight Hawk having two finds, one to the right side of the beaver dam ditch and one on the side of twin oak hill. Both times, Charger swept in to back. Charger also suffered an unproductive, but he hunted well and to the front. Both dogs finished their hour.

Rebel Deuce, pointer male (Williams), and Mac Golve B, setter male (Brown), comprised our second brace of the afternoon. Mac had one very nice find, but Deuce suffered a breach and was up at the find. Mac went on to finish his hour, working well for his handler.

Mohawk Mill Good Advice, pointer male (Winall), and Phillips Linebacker, pointer male (Small), concluded our first day of running. Both dogs swept away from the clubhouse quickly to the right, and Linebacker went on to have two finds, looking beautiful on his first, marking flight on his second, and then suffering an unproductive. He finished the hour with strength of purpose. Good Advice, on the other hand, was lost, which was worrisome for all, because his retrieval collar malfunctioned. It was not until the following day that Greg Bain discovered him at the island where the first and third hours cross, where you turn right to cross Hell Creek, and there are always birds at the island. Advice had a slightly briar-scratched nose and eyes, but other than that, looked none the worse for wear after spending a night out on the grounds.

The first brace of Friday morning — Como Rain, pointer male (David Russell) and Nosam's Ladylike, pointer female (Ashburn) — was running hard away to the left from the breakaway. However, Como Rain was lost after the game warden's house, and Ladylike, although having a good ground race, went birdless.

River City Blackhawk, pointer male (Kent Walker) and Small's White Striker, pointer male (Small) left from the game warden's house for the second brace of the morning. Club officials want to mention that Lowry Strickland stepped in to lend a hand to Kent Walker and did an excellent job as a scout. Club members were grateful that both Strickland brothers, Lowry and John Chandler, were on hand to help with the trial. Both dogs were running hard, and Small had an impressive find after relocation in heavy cover below the house, with Judge Stegan Smith getting off his horse to identify quail running on the ground for Small. Both dogs finished their hour, but Blackhawk had no game contact.

Next were Como Thunder, pointer male (David Russell), and River City Jet, pointer male (Walker). Lowry was in the saddle again to help Walker scout. Thunder garnered the second-place trophy and showed us all again why he typically excels at Hell Creek by sweeping across the creek to take the big bottoms and make some attractive casts. He had one beautiful find, with Russell pointing out for the judge that the bird was there but dead. Jet suffered an unproductive but was strong and to the front.

Nosam's Patchwork, pointer female (Ashburn), running as a bye, rounded out the All-Age Stake with a beautiful find at the heretofore described island at the intersection of the first and third courses, which she handled very nicely. She went on to finish her brace nimbly and with ease.

Amateur Derby

The Derby was won by Phillips Linebacker, pointer male run by Mike Small on the second course. Linebacker was braced with Cocklebur Chocolicious, pointer male (Bubba Spencer).

Linebacker made some stunning casts in his hour, including taking advantage of the long bottom going back toward the clubhouse, which is where many trials and many championships have been won. Clearly, Linebacker's handler knew this and took advantage of the opportunity to point his handsome dog out several hundred yards away in the long bottom, making a very impressive cast across the front.

Touch's Flo Rider, pointer female, run by Mike Jackson, braced with Cocklebur's Breaking Bad, pointer male (Spencer), rendered a commendable race to garner a second-place finish. She was always where you would expect her, out in front, running an ambitious race. Third place went to an exciting setter male, Shearjoy Triple Threat, owned by Betty Shearouse and run by Burke Hendrix. He ran a strong, beautiful race as a bye dog in the third hour to take his placement.

Amateur Shooting Dog Stake

J. Maple Jester, pointer female (Hughes) took this year's first place trophy. She was, like her cohort in the All-Age, in the first brace of her stake, and was braced with Buck, pointer male (Jackson), with Strickland scouting for Jackson. Both dogs left the clubhouse to the left and were away strong, making big casts through the first fields and crossing the rock road to sweep through the pines behind the clubhouse quickly.

After the road crossing, Jester showed nicely out front and then swept on. This author and scout then called point for her, as she had a beautiful find in the pines up and to the left on the course. She held well for wing and shot. She then went on to rejoin her snappy bracedmate, and both dogs made impressive casts in the field below the game warden's house. Jester then suffered an unproductive with Buck backing where birds had been pointed the day before by Masked Man in the All-Age at the top of the hill before the crossing through the pine thicket. Both dogs finished strong.

In the next brace, both Cocklebur Drama Queen, pointer female (Amy Spencer), and Wibaux Sun B, setter male (Brown), hunted hard, but Drama Queen was up after a second unproductive. Sun backed his bracedmate nicely at 33, and also had a find at 53, for which he stood beautifully for wing and shot.

Kennedy's Chocolate Chip, pointer male (Brad Kennedy), and Pioneer B, setter male (Marion Brown), were next up. Pioneer had a nice find at 35, which he held admirably for his handler. He went on to finish his hour. Chocolate Chip was running an ambitious race but unfortunately was lost before we got to the creek crossing.

J Maple Lucy, pointer female (Hughes), and Game On, pointer male (Walker), were in next brace. Lucy garnered second place honors, and she set the woods on fire, setting down a blistering race, rimming the first fields away from the clubhouse to the left, storming through the pines, and flying through the fields beside Hell Creek. She made several snappy casts, and kept her scout, Scott Little, on his toes, as usual. Her bracedmate was lost after the game warden's house, and his handler asked for his retrieval unit. Little called point for Lucy at pickup but could not be heard over the wind. She was located and credited with finishing within her time.

Warrioto's Crazy Daisy, pointer female (Little) and Swift Justice, setter male (Kennedy), were in the brace leaving from the game warden's house. Both dogs were away strong with Daisy having an impressive find in the field below Rock Hill, but was lost thereafter. Justice ran a good hard race but went birdless.

Seekin' A Thrill, pointer male (Ross Leonard), and Warrioto's Baby Ruth, pointer female (Little), were in the next brace. Thrill, this year's National Amateur Shooting Dog Invitational Champion, showed us all why he is a champion, making some gorgeous casts, but unfortunately had no game contact in his hour.

Ruth, a beautifully running bird dog, also hunted hard, but she finished birdless, as well. Thrill was lost at pickup.

The next morning found us with one brace to finish the trial. Jeremy Taylor stepped in to sweep the third placement with Taylor's Simply Southern, pointer female, and an excellent ground race. Southern showed us all she can still hang out on the edges and sweep those Hell Creek grounds and do a masterful job. Pathfinder, pointer male (Leonard), started off well and made some good casts. However, at some point, Pathfinder was not pleasing his handler and was up.

ASSOCIATED FIELD TRIAL CLUBS OF FLORIDA

Super Bowl Trial

by Don Wood | Punta Gorda, Florida | December 11, 2021

Open All-Age Winner: Jay Hallaron (judge) Beth Brown with Myakka Time Shifter and Jimmy Albright Trophy, and Justin Muzynski (judge).

The fog had been heavy until near 10:00A.M. all week long and we were concerned about getting the trial started at a reasonable hour; however, we were fortunate to only lose a few minutes Saturday morning and no time at all on Sunday.

The temperature rose quickly into the mid-80s as the morning progressed. The luck of the draw had an influence on the results with first and second place both mornings coming from the first brace. The grounds had dried up a lot from the trial two weeks earlier and every saddle sported a bottle of water.

We were pleased to have Jay Hallaron come down from Tennessee to judge for us. Jay has judged many times in the past but this was the first time since he moved to the land of blue grass.

Jay was joined by some of our locals to fill out the judicial slate. Justin Muzynski assisted in the all-age stake; Paul Daniel did the shooting dog; and Beth Brown judged the Derby. The dogs pretty much made it easy with all the decisions being well received.

At this trial we have impressive rotating trophies for the winners. The All-Age has the Jimmy Albright Trophy which was put into service by his wife Connie shortly after his death. The Shooting Dog has the George Russell punch bowl, which has been around since 1964. It is always an honor to win one of these trophies.

We have to thank our sponsors for this trial, Purina Pro Plan®. The winners are always pleased to receive their bag of Purina product. Purina also helps us pay for the ad that appears on the American Field site. Thank you, Purina.

Each trial that the Associated Field Trial Clubs of Florida runs is chaired by a different person. This trial is always chaired by Jimmy Goza and Paul Daniel. Jimmy has had some medical issues this Fall and Paul had to do double duty. Fortunately, several people filled in and assisted Paul with the many details that have to be covered when running a trial. Thank you, Paul, for your effort.

The grounds were considerably drier than for our first two trials. Most saddles sported water jugs and the trucks had several backups when they were needed. There was plenty of water in the ponds and shallow sloughs but they are not always around when you need one

The Winners

The Open All-Age got underway with just a 15-minute fog delay. Both Myakka Time Shifter, owned and handled by Beth Brown, and Funseeker Maggie by Tex, owned and handled by Vince Feltner, established strong ground races. Time Shifter scored twice on birds and added a back to Maggie's find. First was awarded to Time Shifter and second went to Maggie. Third place was captured by Myakka Maxed Out, also owned and handled by Beth.

The Open Shooting Dog Stake suffered a short entry due to some late scratches. The winner was Funseeker's Texas Preacher, owned and handled by Don Wood. Preacher put down a strong hour in the 80°+ heat.

The Open Derby was run Sunday morning. There was no fog but the temperature quickly rose into the low-80s.

First and second again came from the first brace with Holopaw's Speed Shift, owned by Ken and Justin Muzynski taking first, and Funseeker's Double Trouble, owned and handled by Don Wood, grabbing second place. Third was awarded to another Muzynski youngster, Holopaw's Rear Axel. Justin handled both of the Muzynski winners.

LEE COUNTY FIELD TRIAL CLUB

by Larron Copeland | Bronwood, Georgia | December 13, 2021

The Lee County Open All-Age National Championship Qualifier stake started Monday, December, 13, on beautiful Showtime Plantation Bronwood, Ga.

No field trial is ever the same and this year was no exception to the rule. Before calling this year's stake, these well qualified judges said, out of the forty dogs that competed, fifteen of them were worthy of placements. While only three could be placed, having that many good races speak highly of both dogs and handlers.

Judges were Mike Jackson, Battle Ground, Ind., and Joe Rentz, Brooks, Ga.

Last year's winner, Lester's Shockwave, handled by Gary Lester, owned by Tommy and Bonnie Hamilton placed third this year. Shockwave ran on the third course in the afternoon and was credited with finds at 22, 42 and 48. Shockwave ran his usual strong race.

Second place was awarded to Erin's Wild Atlantic Way, handled by Luke Eisenhart, owned by Sean Derrig. Erin's Wild Atlantic Way was one of two setters in this year's trial. Wild Atlantic Way was credited with finds at 20, 48 and 58, with birds seen in the air at the 58-minute mark. Erin's Wild Atlantic Way ran on the third course of the first morning of the trial and did it proudly for Luke.

Dominator's Rogue Rebel, handled by Jamie Daniels and owned by Jack and Sarah Swartz, ran in the 14th brace and rose to the top spot of this year's trial. "Tip," a white and liver pointer, showed off for his owner's, Jack and Sarah. Tip had finds at 8, 45 and 49 with a back at 31. Tip used the second morning course to the fullest.

The Lee County Open Derby consisted of 29 entries and began, Thursday, December 16. This Fall has been full of large quality Derby stakes; the Lee County Open Derby was no exception. Judges were Mike Jackson of Battleground, Ind., and Gary Hill of Dawson, Ga., with both being impressed by the caliber of dogs in this year's stake.

Third place dog was Kent Cantrell's newly acquired pointer female, Touch's Lone Dominator, handled by Judd Carlton. She was credited with a find at 15 with a good forward race.

Second was awarded to Navajo Nation, pointer male, for handler Luke Eisenhart, owners Bill and Margi Ricci and Dr. Bill Bruchey. Navajo Nation was credited with a good find at the 15-minute mark and had a strong forward race.

The top spot in this year's Derby was Erin's Perfect Storm, handled by Luke Eisenhart and owned by Brad Woody of Charlotte, N. C. Erin's Perfect Storm was credited with a find at 16 with a nice strong forward race.

Lee County Field Trial Club would like to thank all sponsors. Purina (Greg Blair), we thank you for always being so eager to help and for being so generous and making it possible to carry forward this fine sport we all love. Steve, aka "Kudzu" and Marilyn Wiley for sponsoring breakfast every morning for everyone attending with Hardee's sausage biscuits.

Lunches were sponsored daily by Bennett's Feed & Seed, Flint Ag & Turf, Ivey's Outdoor & Farm Supply, Nutrien Ag Solutions, NexGen, Green Point Ag and last but not least, last year's winner, Gary Lester. Nutrien Ag also sponsored the fish fry held Friday evening, December 10.

We also want to thank all participating handlers and owners competing in this year's Lee County Open All-Age, Open Derby and Amateur All-Age for making it possible for us to host another year of quality trials.

Lee County Field Trial Club honored Paul "Pepa" Loska for his very important part of every field trial held at Showtime Plantation for the last ten years. His dedication to our sport is greatly appreciated.

Lastly, Steve Wiley and I want to welcome Jeff Gibbons for joining our Lee County Field Trial Club board. Jeff will definitely be an asset to our club. We look forward to Jeff helping us for many years to come.

Amateur Stake

The Amateur All-Age started Friday, December 10, drawing twelve quality dogs. Jeff Gibbons of Deatsville, Ala., and Quinton Wiseman of Hogansville, Ga., were this year's judges.

Rester's Cowboy Bill placed third for veteran handler Cecil Rester. "Bill" had two finds, a back and an unproductive with a good race. Touch's Blue Knight, handled by Woody Watson, placed second. "Pete" had a good race with four finds and a back. Storm's End, pointer female, took the top spot this year with handler and newcomer to Lee County Amateur All-Age, Matt Pendergest. "Kate" had three finds and a strong, forward race. All placements were well received.

We would like to thank Jeff and Quinton for their time and express our appreciation of their professional expertise in judging this year's trial.

DELAWARE POINTER & SETTER CLUB

by Glendora Dvorak | Petersburg, Delaware | December 13, 2021

On behalf of the Delaware Pointer and Setter Club, I would like to extend a huge thank you to all that came out to support us during our Fall trial on December 5 in Petersburg, Del. Without all of you, your talented dogs and the dedication of our judges there wouldn't be a trial.

Congratulations to the Amateur Shooting Dog winners. First place was awarded to Little Wing Inked Up, owned and handled by George Mamounis. Second was Navajo Cody, owned by Camille Masiello and Saverio Morelli, handled by Joe Lordi Jr. Third was Hoos English Ivy, owned and handled by David Creagan.

In our Amateur Derby, we only had two placements with first place going to Pinehill Elhew Squirt, owned and handled by Tom McKellar. Second was Isabulla, owned by Ernie and Karen Saniga and handled by Ernie Saniga.

Thank you to the Southern Bird Hunters Association for your support and sponsorship. We appreciate it.

And last, but certainly not least, thank you to our dedicated volunteer judges for your hours in the saddle and your commitment to fair and honest appraisal of each and every dog. Timothy Holmes and John Frank, you rock.

We had good weather, good fellowship, good sportsmanship and good food. What more could we ask for? I hope you all have a very safe and prosperous 2022 and may our paths cross again. Thank you all again.
